Where not-for-profits go for help

Nourish your community organisation's fundraising

*Explore the free resources and low-cost tools
Australia's community organisations have relied upon for twenty years.*

Our Community knows the not-for-profit sector. We also know how time-poor community sector workers and volunteers are and how often you come up against problems, both age-old and brand new, that leave you scratching your head.

If only there was a not-for-profit resource bank that could help with everything...

Introducing Our Community's collection of resources and websites produced with the singular goal of helping you do the best you can, as quickly as possible.

Don't pay a fortune for the targeted advice you need. Browse the range of no-nonsense, affordable and often free resources at

3. Take the legwork out of finding grants for your group

Spending hours each week scanning the horizon for grants?

There's a better way. Outsource the hassles of grantseeking and concentrate your energy on writing winning applications instead with a Funding Centre membership.

Membership costs as little as $85 (inc GST) and provides access to Australia's first and largest grants database, as well as a customisable alerts and updates service. It'll be the best $85 you spend all year.

4. The best online training for fundraisers – new and old

If you're new to fundraising, or looking for inspiration beyond your same-old-same-old sources, this is the training you need.

WTF – Where's the Funding?, an online compact course for community fundraisers, provides the help and answers you need to raise more money for your community group.

Get started at www.ourcommunity.com.au/training

5. Ready to zero-in on grants? There's online training for that too.

Win More Grants, an online compact course for community grantseekers, will teach you the secrets for easily winning more grants for your community organisation or school and how to drastically increase the number of grants you can apply for.

Dive in at www.ourcommunity.com.au/training

6. Grab a free fundraising policy

Does your group have a written fundraising policy? You should and the good news is we've laid the groundwork.

You can download a free template that you can adapt for your own use, as well as more than 80 other policy templates, from www.communitydirectors.com.au/policybank

7. Build your own fundraising library

If only there was a “not-for-profit for dummies” book series...

Introducing the Our Community library – a collection of titles written with the singular goal of helping you do the best you can, as quickly as possible.

Don't pay a fortune for the targeted fundraising advice you need. Mix and match from a range of no-nonsense, affordable guides and build your own library of go-to resources.

Each book costs just $36 (including GST and postage throughout Australia) and can be ordered at www.fundingcentre.com.au/bookstore
